

Description of Wikipedia:

Wikipedia is a free, open content online encyclopedia created through the collaborative effort of a community of users known as Wikipedia's. Anyone registered on the site can create an article for publication. Jimmy Wales and Larry Sanger co-founded Wikipedia as an offshoot of an earlier encyclopedia project, Nupe Día, in January 2001. Originally, Wikipedia was created to provide content for Nupe Día. However, as the wiki site became established it soon grew beyond the scope of the earlier project.

Its feature's:

- 1) It is globally available on all platforms
- 2) it can provide a large amount of information
- 3) Users can share their own thoughts and knowledge
- 4) It is easy to use
- 5) Available in multiple languages

After selecting the language click on create new account:

The screenshot shows the Wikipedia Main Page. At the top right, there are links for "Create account" and "Log in". Below the Wikipedia logo, the text "WIKIPEDIA The Free Encyclopedia" is visible. The main content area features a "Welcome to Wikipedia" message, stating "the free encyclopedia that anyone can edit" and "4,848,129 articles in English". To the right of the welcome message, there are links for "Arts", "History", "Society", "Biography", "Mathematics", "Technology", "Geography", "Science", and "All portals". Below the welcome message, there is a section titled "From today's featured article" which highlights "The Alsos Mission". To the right of this section, there is a "In the news" section with several news items, including "A 12-hour siege at a hotel in Mogadishu, Somalia", "Mathematicians John F. Nash, Jr. (pictured) and Louis Nirenberg share the Abel Prize", "Saudi Arabia conducts airstrikes against Houthi militants", "Germanwings Flight 9525 crashes in the French Alps", "Lee Kuan Yew, the first Prime Minister of Singapore, dies at the age of 91", "A solar eclipse is visible across much of Europe", and "Suicide bombings at two mosques in Sana'a, Yemen".

3) Enter all the details required

The screenshot shows the Wikipedia "Create account" page. At the top right, there are links for "Not logged in", "Talk", "Contributions", "Create account", and "Log in". Below the Wikipedia logo, the text "WIKIPEDIA The Free Encyclopedia" is visible. The main content area features a "Create account" heading. Below the heading, there is a warning: "Your username will be public. Please consider using an anonymous username, and not your real name, unless you are comfortable with your identity being public for the entire internet to see and identify you. Once an account has been created, it is essentially impossible to hide the original username should you later want to change it for privacy reasons." The form fields include "Username" (with a suggestion of "devanshNoob"), "Password" (with a note that it will be adjusted to "DevanshNoob" due to technical restrictions), "Confirm password", and "Email address (optional)" (with the value "shekemayuresh2@gmail.com"). There is also a "CAPTCHA Security check" section with a box containing the text "islesrainy" and a "Refresh" button. At the bottom of the form, there is a "Create your account" button. To the right of the form, there is a section titled "Wikipedia is made by people like you." which displays statistics: "1,002,190,826 edits", "6,249,919 articles", and "148,564 recent contributors".

Editing a page:

After creating the account for creating your own article by searching your name

The screenshot shows the Wikipedia homepage as of February 2021. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the user's name 'Devansh Noob' and links for Talk, Sandbox, Preferences, Beta, Watchlist, Contributions, and Log out. Below this is a search bar containing 'Devansh Noob'. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'Welcome to Wikipedia' with a message about the free encyclopedia; 'From today's featured article' featuring the Silesian Wars; 'In the news' with recent events like the death of Carlos Menem; 'On this day' with historical events; and 'Did you know ...' with trivia questions. The left sidebar contains links to various Wikipedia pages like Main page, Contents, and a list of tools. The bottom of the page has a footer with the Wikipedia logo and 'The Free Encyclopedia' text.

You will be redirected to a page where it will be written “as for it to be created”

Draft Creation

You're all ready to go! When you create your draft, it will not be seen by external search engines. However, when you finish, you'll be able to submit it to be reviewed by our volunteers. Reviews can take a long time, so please be patient and rest assured that your draft will be reviewed in due course. This may take 4 months or more, since drafts are reviewed in no specific order.

Welcome to Articles for Creation!

The Articles for Creation (AFC) process is designed to assist any editor create a new page as a draft article, which they can work on and submit for review and feedback when ready. The AFC process must be used by non-registered users and by those who do not yet have sufficient editing experience because these groups of editors are not permitted to create articles directly in Wikipedia's main space. The AFC process should also be used by anyone with a conflict of interest.

Writing an encyclopedic article from scratch is not easy. We recommend that you first gain some experience by adding material to articles that already exist, or by helping out with other tasks. You should read the page Help:Your first article to avoid common mistakes and save your hard work from being deleted. In some circumstances, it may be more appropriate to request a simple redirect to an existing article than to try to create a new one.

Creating an article

Before you start writing, here are some things you should have in mind:

- Make sure that the topic is notable enough for an article. Is it already covered in an existing article? If not, there is a very good chance that the topic is not notable and will never be accepted as an article. If yes, have you improved that coverage? Improving existing content is a much more successful way of contributing to Wikipedia.
- Articles should reflect only what reliable sources have said about the topic, and all articles need references to reliable sources.
- If you have a conflict of interest with the topic you are writing about, you should disclose it on the draft's talk page.
- If you are being paid to contribute to Wikipedia, you must—under the Wikimedia Foundation's terms of use—disclose who is paying you, who the client is, and any other relevant affiliation.
- If you have an idea for the title of an article, but no content for the article itself, you can make a suggestion at Wikipedia:Requested articles.

Your article title will have "Draft:" in front of it until it is accepted as an article. To start a new draft, click the button below:

Click here to start a new article

Submitting for review

When you are finished, you can submit your article for review by clicking the button "Submit for review". If you don't see this button, you can add the code `{{subst:submit}}` to the top of your draft (remember to switch to the source editor first). If you see a yellow box saying "Review waiting, please be patient", you have successfully submitted your draft for review. If you don't see this box, you can ask for help at the Articles for Creation help desk.

Please note that getting a review can take several weeks, but that your draft will be reviewed eventually. In the meantime, we hope that you expand some of our already existing articles.

Welcome

Thank you for your interest in contributing to Wikipedia!

Before creating a draft article, you can practice by first editing in your personal sandbox. It's a great way to try out editing without affecting live articles. If you need some help along the way, see our guide to your first article.

Wikipedia Article Wizard
Referencing and notability

Your article will be rejected if the topic is not notable, is not referenced properly, or violates copyright.

Copyright
Do not copy-paste or closely paraphrase material from sources. Rather, summarize what the source says in your own words.

Notability
The topic of an article must already be covered in reliable sources that are independent of the subject. These include academic journals, books, newspapers, magazines, and websites with a reputation for fact checking. Social media, press releases or corporate/professional profiles do not qualify.

Referencing

- Independent sources (see above) are generally acceptable and should be used before other sources.
- Non-independent sources (like company websites or press releases) can be used to verify basic facts only.
- Blogs, social media, and tabloid journalism are generally not acceptable.

To create a reference, use `<ref></ref>` as follows:
Bacon was founded in 1942.<ref>https://www.nytimes.com/1942/

More detail on how to cite different types of materials can be found at our introduction to referencing guide.

Common mistakes

There are a lot of common mistakes that are made with drafts. Here are a few you must watch out for:

- Writing about yourself or someone/something you're close to
Whether it is yourself, a family member, a friend, an employer, a mentor/business partner, writing about topics close to you (and the people close to you) is discouraged as the article you will create may not be neutral.
- Copy-pasting material
You must write the article in your own words, or it may be deleted.
- Not citing your sources
Articles without independent reliable sources usually get deleted within days.
- Overly promotional language
Terms like "leading expert" and "ground-breaking technology" sound great when promoting a product, but they do not belong on Wikipedia. Let the facts speak for themselves.

Instructions

Creating a draft article takes four steps. Please read carefully.

- important

- Please note: Once you click the "publish" button, your draft is saved in a public drafting area. You may continue to work on your draft as long as you like; there is no deadline, but bear in mind that if the draft isn't edited in six months, it may be deleted.
- If the draft is declined, you will still be able to edit it. It is simply marked as declined.
- When you feel your draft is ready to become an article, you can request a review (or a re-review). To do so, edit your draft, by clicking on its "Edit" button, and add `{{subst:submit}}` at the beginning of your draft.
